RoUnD #5

Congratulations to K1 for completing their first week of school. Each day that passes by is like a stepping-stone. The children built upon the rich experiences in life. A very exhausted group of children fell asleep instantly after recess. Next week, we will continue to practice transition skills and spent some time getting to know each other. I will take part in “All about the teacher” study. This will allow the students to become familiar with their teacher. It will also jump start our first UOI of Who We Are.
